Many students have difficulty reading, writing, and learning for a variety of reasons. These challenges can make it difficult to comprehend curriculum materials. For these users, Kurzweil 3000 can be life changing.

Adapts to each individual's learning style with features for reading, writing, and test taking. Built on the principles of Universal Design for Learning (UDL), print and digital content is available to a broad spectrum of students.

Provides a multi-sensory access to virtually any text or curriculum, including print, electronic, and web-based material - so students learn from grade appropriate content, develop valuable skills, and become independent learners.

Supports learning wherever it happens with technology that's accessible from any device or computer, both at school and at home 24/7.

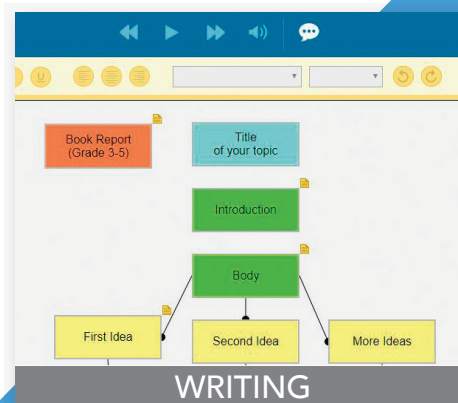

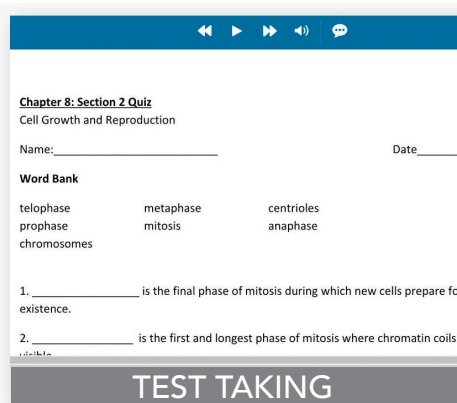

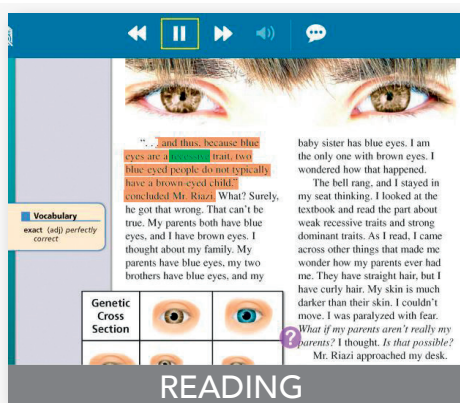

HERE'S HOW KURZWEIL 3000 WORKS

Users can access content from their local computer (or local network), Google Drive, Google Docs, Google Forms, Bookshare, the web... virtually anywhere. High-quality human sounding voices read text aloud, while dual highlighting provides visual support. Reading can be customized to meet users unique needs by adjusting voice, rate, mode, and unit.

Learners can access a number of reference and study tools within one environment. Tasks become less arduous and students can retain their focus and attention, as they deepen comprehension.

KURZWEIL 3000 PROVIDES A MULTISENSORY APPROACH TO LEARNING

Access on any device within one environment gives students the power to work independently and confidently. Whether you are on a PC or Mac, Chromebook, iPad, tablet, or smart phone, enjoy access to any curriculum at your fingertips. Kurzweil3000.com provides central user management, reporting, unlimited cloud storage, and truly web based literacy support.
